GABRIEL PROJECT DONORS

Douglas Cleveland was raised in Olympia, Washington and is a sixth generation Washingtonian. He made his Seattle debut in 1988 at the age of 19 at St. Mark's Cathedral, performing the annual "Patron's Concert." While a High School student in Olympia, he studied with Dr. Edward Hansen of Seattle and performed numerous concerts in the Pacific Northwest. In 1986 he began his studies at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, New York where he studied with the acclaimed organ teacher Russell Saunders. He earned his master's degree in 1994 from Indiana University, where he studied with Larry Smith and Marilyn Keiser. While at Indiana, he received a Lilly grant to study advanced choral conducting with David Hill at Winchester Cathedral. He also served as assistant organist and choirmaster at Christ Church Episcopal Cathedral in Indianapolis from 1991-1994. Mr. Cleveland gained international prominence when he won first prize in the 1994 American Guild of Organists National Young Artists Competition in Dallas. Since winning first prize, he has performed in 48 of the United States and has been invited to perform in such venues as Westminster Abbey, Notre-Dame Cathedral in Paris, The Berlin Cathedral, St. Patrick's Cathedral in Melbourne, Australia, Stockholm Cathedral, and the Cathedral of Lausanne, Switzerland. He has also performed in many of the world's great concert halls including the Great Hall of the Moscow Conservatory, Beneroya Hall in Seattle, Symphony Hall in Chicago, Minato Mirei Concert Hall in Yokohama, Japan and the Milwaukee Symphony Hall. He has performed with several Symphony Orchestras including the Chicago Symphony, the St. Louis Symphony, the Milwaukee Symphony, the Northwestern University Symphony and the National Symphony for an audience of over 4,000 at the Washington National Cathedral. He has frequently performed with Paul Hillier's "Theatre of Voices" vocal ensemble and several noted early music ensembles. Many of his performances have been broadcast on National Public Radio, the BBC, and the Northwest radio program "Organ Lofts." Mr. Cleveland has recorded three CD's on the Gothic label which have received critical acclaim in Fanfare Magazine, CD Review, the Association of Anglican Musicians Journal, the Living Church, The American Organist, The Diapason and Organists Review. From 1999-2004, he was assistant professor of organ and church music at Northwestern University in Evanston Illinois, where he taught organ and courses in sacred music. While teaching at Northwestern, he received the Searle Award for Teaching Excellence. He also served as organist and choirmaster at St. Matthew's Episcopal Church in Evanston. Mr. Cleveland has been a visiting faculty member at St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minnesota and the University of Washington, Seattle. He is represented by Karen McFarlane Artists, Cleveland, Ohio. This season, Douglas has performing a concert tour of Japan and will be performing at St. Philip's Cathedral, Atlanta for the Atlanta International Organ Festival and performances at the University of Iowa, University of Calgary, and several other concerts in the United States. Since 2004, Mr. Cleveland has served as organist and director of music at Plymouth Congregational Church in Seattle, where he directs three choirs and administers a concert series.

THE COMMITTEES

In June of 2004, the process of acquiring a new organ for St. Barnabas began with a gift of $300,000 toward the purchase of a new organ. Our existing organ, a Moller "Artiste" was beyond its useful life and needed extensive repair that could not be justified given the cost that would be required. The 2004 vestry approved receipt of the gift and chartered our music director, Paul Roy, to create an organ search committee with the goal of selecting and commissioning a builder by June 2005. This committee was formed and began work in fall of 2004.

Visits were made locally and to Oregon, Washington, DC, Maryland and Virginia to narrow down the list of builders and to refine the stop list that would be necessary to provide St. Barnabas with decades (if not centuries!) of music. In June of 2005 Richard Bond Organs of Portland, Oregon was selected with approval by the vestry.

DESCRIPTION OF THE ORGAN

The new organ for St. Barnabas Episcopal Church is Opus 33 of Bond Organ Builders of Portland, Oregon. During the summer of 2005, a series of meetings between Organ Committee members and Richard and Roberta Bond took place, and a tonal design and casework conception were developed. The contract for the instrument was submitted on August 23, 2005 and construction began in January, 2006. The casework of the instrument is of cherry with walnut crosses and has a hand rubbed finish of orange shellac and tung oil. The gothic design complements the architecture of the church and the deep red of the cherry wood harmonizes well with the brick color of the church interior. The Great division is in the right tower of the case, the Swell on the left, and the Pedal is located in the center, below the three stained glass windows. The facade pipes are made of polished 70% tin and most speak as the Pedal 8' Principal. The two embossed pipes and the flat of small pipes on the side of the Swell enclosure are the only non-speaking pipes.

The organ has electric key and stop action with slider windchests for the manuals. The terraced drawknob console has internal casters, so that it can be freely moved around the chancel area. A solid state multiplex switching system reduces the cabling between the console and organ to a single Ethernet cable. A 100 level solid state combination action allows each user of the instrument to have multiple memory levels at their disposal. The system also includes the capability for the organist to record and play back his performances, and to transpose.

The tonal design of the instrument follows the traditional practice of terraced choruses. That of the Great is based on an 8' Principal; that on the Swell, the 4' Principal. In addition, there is a generous selection of color stops, in the form of flutes, strings, and reed stops. We made every effort to build an English flavor into the instrument, to give the resources to perform the great choral literature and hymnody of the Anglican tradition. The Pedal 16' Trombone, which was prepared for future addition in the original contract, is now on order and will be delivered summer, 2007. Wind for the organ is supplied by a 1HP blower located under the Great division.

Installation of the organ took place in August, 2006, and was finished on the contract due date of August 31. We wish to express our gratitude to Paul Roy, Curt Zimmerman, and the members of the Organ Committee, Dick Gregory, church members who helped unload the delivery van, and to Marilie McMullen for graciously housing our installation crew through several weeks. We hope this instrument inspires your worship for many years to come, and we are grateful to St. Barnabas for the opportunity afforded us.
